“One of the Girls in Our Party” Writing Prompts

1. Imagine a trip to a place you have heard or read about on this earth or in the universe. Create a travel journal that follows your journey day by day. Include details on the places you visit, your experiences, and the people that you meet along the way.
2. Describe what it would be like if you were a tour guide in your own town. How would you design your tour for people that have never visited there before? What would you include? Are there landmarks to point out? What historical stories would you share to entertain the group?
3. Imagine you are at the end of a journey or trip, and you are writing a letter to your family or friends. What kinds of things would you want to include? You could describe the places you visited, your fellow travelers, and high and low points of the trip.
4. Think about the things Miss Blake included in her letter and consider that you are the person she is writing to. Write a response letter to Miss Blake. What questions would you ask her from the information she’s shared with you? What might you tell her about things that have happened at home while she’s been away?
5. Think about an accent that you have heard that is different than your own. Create an exchange between two people as it may sound to other people.
