

“Telling Our Tales” 2024 Guidelines and Instructions

Thomas Wolfe is often considered North Carolina’s greatest author. Best known for his style of autobiographical fiction, Wolfe used observations of his life and the world around him in his writing. In his short story “The Sun and the Rain,” Wolfe demonstrates his mastery in a piece of writing characterized by a main character in a setting who encounters and engages with and learns from people he’s only just met. In honor of Wolfe’s legacy, the Thomas Wolfe Memorial encourages students to submit their own creative work, inspired by “The Sun and the Rain” and Wolfe’s style of fiction. First, second, and third place winners will be chosen from three age groups: Grades 4-5, 6-8, and 9-12. Cash awards of $50, $30, and $20 will be given to first, second, and third place winners, respectively. Manuscripts will not be returned, so be sure to keep a copy of your entry.

- 1) Access <https://wolfememorial.com/for-teachers/student-writing-contest/> for links to the story, lesson plan, and subsequent materials.
- 2) Read Thomas Wolfe’s “The Sun and the Rain.” Refer to pages under the “History” tab on the Wolfe Memorial website for more information about Wolfe and us: www.wolfememorial.com.
- 3) Choose one or more of the prompts from “Writing Competition 2024 Prompts” for your writing.
- 4) Entries must be between 500-1000 words (2-4 pages), typed 12 point font, double-spaced, and in Word or PDF format.
